Are you ready to explore the Universe?

The course is an introduction to astronomical science extending from historical astronomy through the most recent discoveries of astrophysics including stellar evolution, supernovas, white dwarves, neutron stars, black holes, dark matter and energy, and the Big Bang. The course will also cover techniques used by astronomers and some of the latest conjectures including the possibility of extra dimensions or multiple universes.

nicadd.niu.edu/~hedin/162/162h.html

Tu-Thu 12:30  Take HONORS ASTRONOMY (PHYS 162H) this fall at NIU